THE FAILURE OF SQUIER & CO. Important Orders Made by Judge Hagner-A Petition to Bake J. B. Edmonds a Party Defendant.

In the case of Theron C. Crawford and thers against the bankrupt firm of J. H. Souier & Co. two orders were made by

The first was that Mr. Jesse B. Wilson, the receiver, pay to J. Edward Temple $170, the balance due for rent of bank building, or show cause why he should not do so.

The second order was more important and is expected to bring about more graticying results, and that was making District Commissioner J. B. Edmonds a party defendant to the suit with Squier & Co.

Commissioner J. B. Edmonds a party defendant to the suit with Squier & Co.

The petition on which the matter is made states that the cause is now pending in equity, the object of which is to have administered, under the direction of the Court, the assets of the late firm of Squier & Co., which were assigned to J. B. Smith for the benefit of the creditors, and subsequently turned over to a receiver.

The petitioners further show that J. B. Edmonds has filed a petition in the cause, in which he claims a large portion of what is believed to be the assets of the firm, and which were delivered to him under the order of the Court, upon giving bond for the forthcoming thereof or the payment of such money as he might collect thereon when required by the Court.

The petitioners further represent that they have been informed and believe that Squier & Co. has not paid over and deliver d to the assignee or receiver all the assets to which the creditors are entitled under the assignment. They represent that they desire to amend the bill for the assets to which the creditors are entitled under the assignment. They represent that they deare to amend the bill for the purpose of making Mr. Edmonds a party and seeking relief against him, and also for the purpose of obtaining a discovery from Squier as to his assets, and require him to deliver to the receiver such, if any, assets as he may have to which the creditors are entitled under the assignment. Upon the representation thus made the bill was permitted to be amended as prayed.

THE ROYS FAMILY TROUBLES.

action of Judge Hagner nipped it before opportunity was given for an explosion. On the 26th of last March Mrs. Emily Roys was granted a divorce from Chase Reys, given the custody of her two daughters and alimony, the latter of which she has been unable to obtain.

Mr. Roys has made several attempts to regain control of the children and, lastly, went before Judge Hagner and applied for them.

went before Judge Hagner and applied for them.

Mrs. Roys came into court all excitement and asked to be heard, but the Judge said that he did not case to hear her, and she left the court evidently believing the Judge was sgainst her, but the fact was that there was no necessity to hear her.

Mr. Roys failed to show any additional reason since the granting of the divorce why the custody of the children should be transferred to him, and Judge Hagner promptly dismissed the application.

But it seems that there was another and more serious charge against Mr. Roys, and that was the potition of the wife for a rule on him to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in failing to obey the order of the court.

This, however, being a matter growing out of probate business, Judge Hagner postponed action until he held that court.

Subsequently, in the Orphan's Court, the petition of Mrs. Roys was read, stating that Roys had been ordered to pay $20 per month for the support of the children, and asking that a rule be issued for him to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in failing to obey the order of the court.

WASHINGTON BASEBALL CLUB. The Reports of Its Disbandment Set

at Rest. Rumors of the disbandment of the Washington Baseball Club were floating about yesterday and created a ripple of excitement among the patrons of the diamond field.

Mr. Moxley made a satisfactory ex-planation to his men and they will con-tinue to play through the season, though-some of them have received offers of higher salaries to play with clubs in the Union Association.

some of them have received offers of higher salaries to play with clubs in the Union Association.

One of Mr. Moxley's friends makes the charge that the managers of the National Club offered Murphy, their new player, $150 bonus to join that club, and that similar flattering offers were made to other members of the Washington.

The Washingtons left here at 12:10 today for Baltimore, where they will play the Baltimore nine. This does not look much like disbandment.

Mr. Moxley was prostrated last night and was not able to see any one to-day. On account of ill-health he has resigned the presidency of the club and Mr. Harry Ford has succeeded him and will remain in that position during this and next season.

All the members of the club have been paid their salaries to date.
